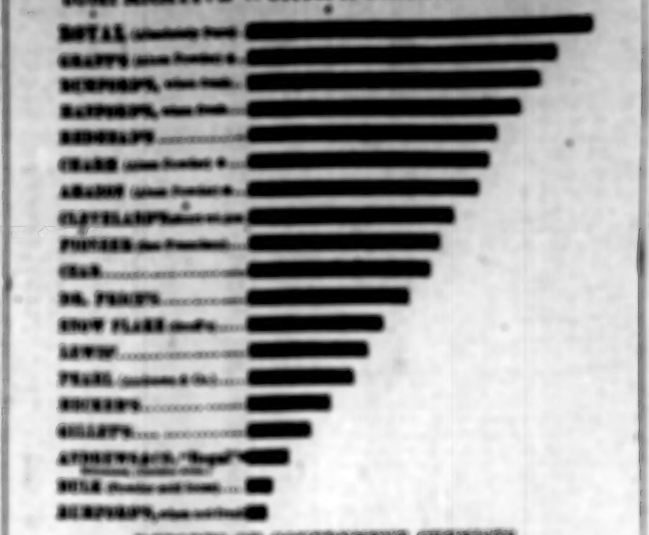
COMPARATIVE WORTH OF BAKING POWDERS.



REPORTS OF GOVERNMENT CHEMISTS

As to Purity and Wholesomeness of the Royal Baking Powder.

"The Royal Baking Powder is composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It is a cream of tartar powder of a high degree of merit, and does not contain either alum or phosphates, or other injurious substances. R. A. LOVE, Ph. D."

"It is a valuable fact that the Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure. R. A. LOVE, Ph. D."

"The chemical tests to which I have subjected the Royal Baking Powder prove it perfectly healthful, and free from every deleterious substance. "Wm. McMURTRIE, Ph. D., Ph. D."

Note.—The above Diagram illustrates the comparative worth of various Baking Powders, as shown by chemical analysis and experiments made by Prof. Schedler. A pound can of each powder was taken, the total leavening power or volume in each was calculated, the result being as indicated. This practical test by words by Prof. Schedler only proves what every observant consumer of the Royal Baking Powder knows by practical experience, that while it costs a few cents per pound more than ordinary kinds, it is far more economical, and, besides, affords the advantage of better work. A single trial of the Royal Baking Powder will convince any intelligent person of these facts.

"Where the diagram shows seven of the circle portion to be of a darker shade of grey, that other powder contains cream of tartar, to the extent of seven-eighths of its leavening power; and where only one-eighth of the circle is dark, that powder contains cream of tartar to the extent of one-eighth of its leavening power, and so on with the others. In other words, the dark shade represents the cream of tartar in the powder, and the light shade the alum, or other ingredients, as the case may be. All alum powders, no matter how high their strength, are to be avoided as dangerous."
